Brownyard Group Forms Client Services Division For Agents and Brokers

Bay Shore, N.Y.—May 3, 2010—In support of the company’s longstanding commitment to the needs of agents and brokers, the Brownyard Group (www.brownyard.com) has formed a new division to serve as a facilitator between its agents/brokers and its underwriting and claims teams.

Brownyard, a program administrator providing specialized insurance coverage for select industry groups, writes all coverage exclusively through agents and brokers.

The new division, Brownyard Client Services, is dedicated to actively evaluating the needs of brokers and insureds, and providing an informational resource for their agent/broker clients through a team of experienced insurance professionals.

“Customer service and responsiveness have been hallmarks of the Brownyard Group for half a century,” said Tory Brownyard, President of Brownyard Group. “The creation of our Client Services Division will provide a main contact for agents and brokers to have their questions answered quickly and, based on their individual needs, determine the most effective way to proceed.”

Co-managing the new division will be Judy Loria, who has been named Account Services Manager, and Ruth Connelly, who has been named Client Relations Specialist. Loria will be the main contact for insureds, facilitating contact between Brownyard Group and the agents and brokers. Connelly will be the main contact for agents and brokers, providing education on the features of all Brownyard programs as well as handling questions and handling requests that agents may have.

For more information, Ruth Connelly can be reached at 800-645-5820, ext. 104; rconnelly@brownyard.com and Judy Loria can be reached at 800-645-5820, ext. 143, jlوريا@brownyard.com.
